FROM THE PRESIDENT

In a year marked by unexpected challenges, Goodwill Industries of Central Alabama (GICA) was still able to provide training, employment, and placement services for people with disabilities. Despite the disruption caused by the COVID Pandemic the revenue from our retail stores and government contract services provided jobs at Goodwill for over 150 people with disabilities. This year we are especially grateful for the generous donations of clothing and household goods that continued to come in despite the restrictions and service limitations caused by COVID. The COVID outbreak has also forced us to evaluate how we provide services to the community. In cooperation with the Alabama Department of Rehabilitation Services (ADRS) we are exploring virtual options for services delivery. Goodwill is purchasing technology to provide virtual Smart Work Ethics training to high school students and prison inmates. Additionally, in the future we expect to restart Vocational College Tours, Workplace Tours, and Summer Job Exploration Work for high school students. Of course, none of what we do would be possible without the generosity of our donors, and the loyalty, dedication, and hard work of our employees. We "Thank you for your continued support and look forward to the future".

Zandra Jones

Zandra Jones has been with Goodwill for the past six years. She started in the Air Base Boulevard plant, sorting donations. In the past couple of months she began working in the Air Base retail store. Zandra wanted to make the switch to retail so she could have more interaction with customers and “get to greet them with a smile.” Zandra was diagnosed with a hearing impairment at six months old. Zandra enjoys working at Goodwill because she relates to the people she works with, but also because she likes to help those who struggle as well.

“Goodwill encourages me to do the best I can. I might not know how to do everything, but Goodwill is a safe place where I can ask for help.” – Zandra Jones

Tom “Red” Perry

Tom “Red” Perry was in a car accident in 2001. He suffered a spinal cord injury that left him paralyzed from the waist down. When Red first had the accident he felt depressed and overwhelmed. He worked hard to overcome those feelings and instead have a positive, upbeat attitude on life. Red has been working for Goodwill a little over two years. He works at the Eastern Boulevard retail store. The state has provided Red with an electric wheelchair to use while he is working at the store. The chair allows him to take on larger tasks at work. He enjoys greeting donors, collecting donations and helping his team members.

“I love being around customers. I like getting out and doing something with my life. I didn’t want to just sit and watch TV all day. I am thankful that places like Goodwill exist, so people with disabilities can get out and work.” – Tom “Red” Perry
